

READY TO SOUND OFF--The new siren that will serve Mokena as fire or disaster warning can be heard for at least a mile, according to the makers. The siren sits atop a 50-foot pole near the water tower alongside the village hall. It was raised into place Monday afternoon by a detachment from the Nike base at Orland Park. It could not be tried out immediately because it had to be connected first and the telephone company had to put in certain relays. The siren cost approximately $2,000. The federal government thru civil defense is paying half the cost. The remainder will be shared by the village of Mokena and the Mokena Volunteer fire department. (Semmler Press Photo)

Apartment Must Have Rear Exits, Says Board

Multiple family dwellings in New Lenox, in the future, will have to have rear doors as well as those in front, it was decided by the village board at the meeting on March 7.

Village Attorney William R. Penn was instructed to include this provision in the building ordinance covering structures housing apartments.

Trustee Robert Randolph said that the state fire marshal's office recommended such an ordinance as a safety feature. It was pointed out that with but one exit an occupant could be trapped in the event of a fire.

Mayor Stanley Gilmore and Village Clerk Robert J. McCleary were authorized by the board to sign the plat for Sunset Trail Development when it has been approved by the zoning board, and a performance bond has been posted and the sewer and water lines dedicated to the village.

Edmund Lord is the developer. Some multiple dwellings are already under construction on Cooper road under a special permit issued several months ago.

Charles Vavrus and William Doland are planning a subdivision west of the shopping center on U.S. 30. They plan to develop 20 acres now which will leave 100 acres available for development at a later date. Vavrus told the board that they plan to lay out 50 lots at the beginning for residential purposes. The residential section will start 300 feet south of the highway.

Before final approval is given by the village board the developers will have to get approval by the plan and zoning commissions, it was explained. A committee was appointed by Mayor Gilmore to work with the developers. The committee will be made up of Trustees Evan Drotts, Eugene McGovern and Village Attorney William R. Penn.

Glenn Ruthenbeck who has laid out 10 lots for housing in Walona Meadows, Lincoln highway, east of New Lenox, told the board that he is not interested in annexing at this time, the development being no larger than it is. The sewage there will be disposed of thru use of a septic field, he said.

The new village treasurer, James E. Hearn, gave the monthly report on village finances. Mr. Hearn who operates a bookkeeping and accounting firm, succeeds Ronald Vondrasek as village treasurer. Mr. Vondrasek who is with the New Lenox Lumber company asked to be relieved as treasurer because of press of business duties.

James C. Barringer, sanitary engineer with the Will county health department, informed the board that he and the department were ready to cooperate with the village at any time in dealing with health problems.

Barringer said that where villages or cities did not have a full time health service the county health department can take over. He said that his office will inspect restaurants in the area and those who do not meet the standards will be given so many days in which to do so--failure to comply with health regulations will result in the closing of such establishments, Barringer said.

Fred Ebert Dies At 84

Fred Ebert, 84, Blue Island, died in St. Francis hospital there Monday, March 12. He had been ill for less than a month.

A native of Bremen township where he was born Nov. 25, 1877, he farmed in Green Garden township about 25 years and then moved to Frankfort. He lived there for several years but 17 years ago he moved to

Girl Kicked By Horse; Father Sues Owner

Charging that his six-year-old daughter, Bonnie, was seriously and permanently injured when kicked by a horse, Carl Luckhart of 123 Roy Street, New Lenox has filed suit in the circuit court for $15,000.

Listed as co-defendants in the action are Joseph Wajchert and Miss Joan Stone of New Lenox.

Luckhart, thru the law firm of Herschbach and Tracy, is charging that his daughter was playing on the family property when she was kicked by a horse owned by Wajchert and ridden by Miss Stone.

Luckhart maintains that Wajchert was negligent in allowing a minor to ride his horse.

Frankfort Library Will Open Doors To Public On Saturday

After months of work and planning the women supporting a move to establish a public library at Frankfort announce that the library will open its doors Saturday, March 17, the Zechlin building at 9 W. Nebraska street.

The hours on Saturday will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., those in charge hope for many visitors.

The library also will be open Wednesdays between 3 and 5 p.m. and 7 and 9 o'clock.

Those in charge say the new institution should be called the people's library.

"It has been brought about," a spokesman said, "thru the work and contributions of so many individuals and organizations who have given unstintingly of their time, money and encouragement to turn the dream of a library into a reality."

The idea of a library was first discussed at a PTA meeting a year ago. Twenty of the members volunteered to work as part-time librarians. Then the village board offered the use of the second floor of the village hall, for a library.

With librarians and a location assured the committee doubled its efforts. Remodeling the second floor of the village hall and building an outside stairway to accommodate patrons would require quite a bit of money. The Women's club and the PTA each contributed $100, as did a Chicago businessman who heard of the program. Another Chicagoan added $10 and a dance in the spring of 1961 added $200 more to the fund.

The Frankfort Chamber of Commerce Sauerkraut day brought in another $200 plus. Roland and William Knippel donated a third of the proceeds from the African Dip and the Women's club and the PTA stocked the Country Store and those proceeds went into the library fund.

Meanwhile the committee visited other small libraries and met with a representatives from the state library and the Frankfort Public Library was incorporated as a non-profit corporation. The Mokena and New Lenox libraries were especially helpful, the committee reported.

About then it was discovered that the stairs at the village hall would cost more than anticipated and when it was found that the Zechlin building had space that could be leased the Women's club took over responsibility for the rent. And so the library's service will be available two years earlier than had been figured. To meet this obligation the Women's club will undertake various money making projects for which it will seek community support.

The Boy Scouts aided in collecting the many volumes that have been donated to the library and the Girl Scouts have been helping to prepare the books for the shelves.

Many hours have been spent by volunteer workers in getting ready for the opening--sorting, stamping and classifying books, typing and setting up envelopes and cards, for the books and files, cataloging, setting up the shelves, arranging books, getting supplies, developing a system of operation and so on and so on.

To be successful, it was pointed out, the library will continue to heed the help of the community. Book donations and volunteers are always welcome, it was emphasized. More books are needed, especially in the children's section.

And now that the library is about to open those responsible for its advent have but one wish--that it will be used. That will repay them, the spokesman said, for all the effort expended to establish a library at Frankfort.

Opposition To Jr. College Plan Grows In L-W District

Opposition to the proposed establishment of a community junior college district which would link the Lincoln-Way high school district with six high schools in southwest Cook County appears to be growing.

Those fighting inclusion of the Lincoln-Way district in this particular junior college program have organized what is known as the Lincoln-Way Information committee and it is endeavoring to get members of the L-W board of education or the school administrators, members of the survey group that made a study of the plan or anyone else to debate the issue.

So far no one has picked up the gauntlet and according to observers no one is likely to do so, especially the high school board or school administrators.

The board has gone on record that it would get out of the program now if it were legally possible and that failing that when and if a district is formed and the majority of people of Lincoln-Way against it, the board would take all possible steps to detach.

A spokesman for the board pointed out that that body was not endeavoring to force a junior college district on the area and therefore there was no reason why any of its members or the school administrative staff should debate the issue.

The board is in favor of a junior college program but, the spokesman pointed out, "so is the state legislature and a majority of the educators in Illinois."

The Information Committee held a meeting at New Lenox last Sunday to discuss the subject and a group in Manhattan has a similar meeting planned for the night of March 21 at the school there.

Approximately 100 persons came to the meeting of the Lincoln-Way board last Thursday night so the board had to hold the session in one of the larger rooms.

The board reported at that time that from the best legal advice it had been able to obtain on the subject the district could not be excluded from the referendum plan now unless enough people in the proposed junior college district withdrew their names from the petition asking an election so the total was under 500. Such a procedure would be difficult, it was pointed out. The board's attorney, Sherrill Weichbrodt explained that the board could not take steps now to withdraw from the proposed J. C. district because such a district does not exist.

A spokesman for the Information committee says that in its statement of policy the board stated it "... will use every means available to disseminate to the voters of this district all information concerning all sides of the issue of the proposed junior college district," ... but, the spokesman added "while this article was less than a week old they have refused to send speakers to two local PTA meetings ... and we wonder how a board could have spent a considerable amount of time and money to get us into this district and then refuse to defend its efforts."

The committee is also taxing exception to the fact that when asked at its meeting last Thursday if the board favored establishment of a junior college district the members all stood up.

A committee spokesman says that the board was asked if it were still in favor of "the new junior college district." A board spokesman says the question was whether the board was in favor of the junior college program and that the board has been and is in favor of a junior college program, and that is why the members stood.

There are some of those who are against Lincoln-Way joining in a junior college district with Cook county districts who are for the formation of a Will county district that would center on Joliet.

Observers, talking with people in various sections of the Lincoln-Way area, report that quite a number of them are opposed to establishment of any junior college district or approval of a tax levy which would provide tuition for students from here to attend the junior college of their choice. These people, the observers, added feel that it is difficult enough to keep up the schools of the district the way they should be without taking on any more of a tax burden. They feel that if anyone wants to go to college that is an individual problem.

Girl Scouts Observe 50th Anniversary

Girl Scout Sunday, March 11, marked the beginning of a week long observance of the Golden Anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States. The 385 Brownie and Girl Scout members of Triken Neighborhood presented a rally entitled "The Golden Promise" at the Lincoln-Way high school Sunday afternoon.

The program opened and closed with a choral reading done by representatives chosen from each troop in Mokena, Frankfort and New Lenox. Frankfort Troop 379 conducted the flag ceremony. The Rev. Erich Bizer gave the invocation and the welcome was given by Mrs. Edmond Knobloch, Neighborhood chairman.

WIRE DELIVERY

The Florist Telegraph Delivery Association Headquarters in Detroit, Michigan announces the acceptance of Bernardins Florist-operated by Joseph and Marjorie Bernardin, as members. Mr. and Mrs. Bernardin operates a Florist Shop and greenhouses at 189th St. and Wolf Road, Mokena.

Through this membership they are able to send flowers for their customer to 11,000 Associate members in the United States and Canada and 18,000 members thruout the rest of the world.

GREETING NEIGHBORS--Albert H. Krusemark, center, exchanged greetings with friends and neighbors Sunday at a coffee held in his home in the village of Frankfort. Mr. Krusemark is a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator from the 41st district which is made up of Will and DuPage counties. With Mr. Krusemark here is Jim Geuther, (left) and Adam Heisner, (right), both of Frankfort. More than 300 persons met the candidate in the course of the afternoon. In his campaign speeches Mr. Krusemark stresses the need for sound government and sound money and to be on the alert against encroachment on our liberties by advocates of the welfare state.

State Rep. Harold Hoover Has Fatal Heart Attack

Funeral services for State Representative Harold A. Hoover, 51, of Palos Park, were conducted there from the Presbyterian church last Saturday afternoon, March 10, and at Fennville, Mich., at 2 o'clock on Sunday. Burial was at Fennville.

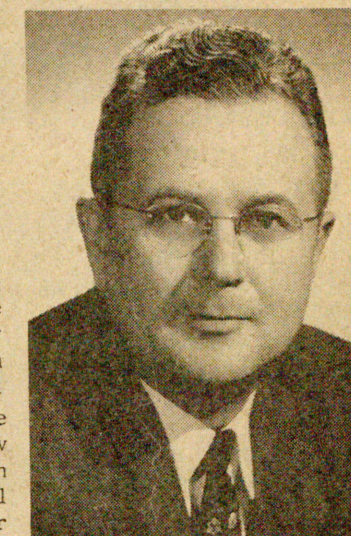

Mr. Hoover died last Thursday of a heart attack. He was stricken at Elkhart, Ind., while returning by train from New York City where he had been on business for the Acme Steel Co. Mr. Hoover was a member of the law firm of Essington, McKibben, Beebe and Pratt.

He was born on a farm near Fennville in 1910. He attended Hope college and Kent College of Law. In World War II he was a naval officer, emerging with the rank of lieutenant commander. He was attorney for the village of Palos Park and president of the Southwest Suburban Community Chest.

He became well known thru the state as head of the "Little Hoover" commission set up to study means of modernizing state government. He was looked upon in the state legislature as one of its ablest members.

Surviving Representative Hoover are his wife, the former L. Louise McKee; a daughter, Susan, and a son, Gregory. They reside at 8516 W. 122nd Place, Palos Park.

Mr. Hoover was a candidate

HAROLD A. HOOVER

for reelection in Republican primary April 10, and he will be nominated as such since, it is too late to remove his name from the ballot or to accept the petition of a new candidate.

After the primary it will be declared there is a vacancy and according to word from Chicago his replacement for the Nov. 6 election will be selected by the Republican representative committee.

Don Moore, Republican township committee man for Bremen township and a candidate for the legislature two years ago, has been mentioned as a possible candidate to replace Representative Hoover on the ballot in November.

The second district takes in Orland, Palos, Worth, Bremen and Lemont Townships.

Approve Tract East Of Mokena For Industry

The Will county zoning board of appeals recommends approval of eight changes in accordance with petitions reviewed last Friday night at hearings in three townships.

In Frankfort township Futuristic Homes Inc. won approval by the board for its proposed industrial tract along 191st street between the highway and the Rock Island tracks as well as an O.K. for two service stations sites, at the corner of 191st and U.S. 45. The industrial tract is comprised of 118 acres, now divided into 38 lots of various sizes, is to have two spur tracks and a 66-foot road, the zoning board was told. It is recommended that it be zoned for light industry. This is part of the Arbury Hills development along U.S. 45.

The Frankfort and Mokena plan commissions were in favor of the proposed zonings.

Lenox Grain for 17 years. Loucks and Marchbank bought out the 30 stockholders of the company to acquire full ownership. It is located a mile south of U.S. 30 on Spencer road. The company handles grain, feed, coal and hardware. Loucks operates an excavating business and Marchbank is head of a blacktop paving company at Oak Lawn.

L-W Student Would Spend Summer Abroad

Beverly Guildenzoph, Lincoln-Way high school junior, has reached the semi-finals in the Americans Abroad program sponsored by the American Field Service International scholarships. Thirteen hundred of the 2,500 applicants remaining will be sent abroad this summer.

Miss Guildenzoph; Carol Sherwood, Lincoln-Way senior; and Jane Berlin, Lincoln-Way graduate; are substituting for the injured foreign exchange student, Marijke van den Nouwland, in presenting this program in the communities Lincoln-Way serves.

The three will visit the Frankfort Lions club meeting on March 20. Carol Sherwood visited the Netherlands last summer. Jane Berlin, presently a student at Joliet junior college, spent two summers ago in Argentina.

Any group interested in booking any of these young ladies for a meeting should contact Donald J. D'Amico, assistant principal at Lincoln-Way.

N. Lenox Man Indicted By Grand Jury

James Sherwood, New Lenox tavern owner and a former justice of the peace is at liberty on bonds of $2,000, following his appearance in the Will county circuit court Monday on charges of misconduct in office. He was indicted by the March Grand jury last week and summoned to appear before Circuit Judge James V. Bartley Monday.

At that time he was furnished with a copy of the indictment and the list of witnesses and William Penn entered his formal appearance as counsel for the defense. The case was then continued until March 26 at which time Sherwood will be arraigned and in all probabilities enter a plea of innocence.

He was accused by the state treasurer's office of failure to turn in $1,396.30 to that office as alleged fines he assessed against truck operators in overweight cases.

Zuzag-Weber Nuptials Are Solemnized At St. Jude's

Miss Marilyn Ione Zusag, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Zusag, 1123 North Cedar road, New Lenox, became the bride of Kenneth Lee Weber, Jan. 27, in St. Jude's Catholic church of New Lenox.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weber, 360 West Francis road, New Lenox.

The Rev. Faust Klink, O. F.M., officiated at the 11 o'clock Nuptial high mass, before an altar decorated with bouquets of white gladiolas and 'mums.

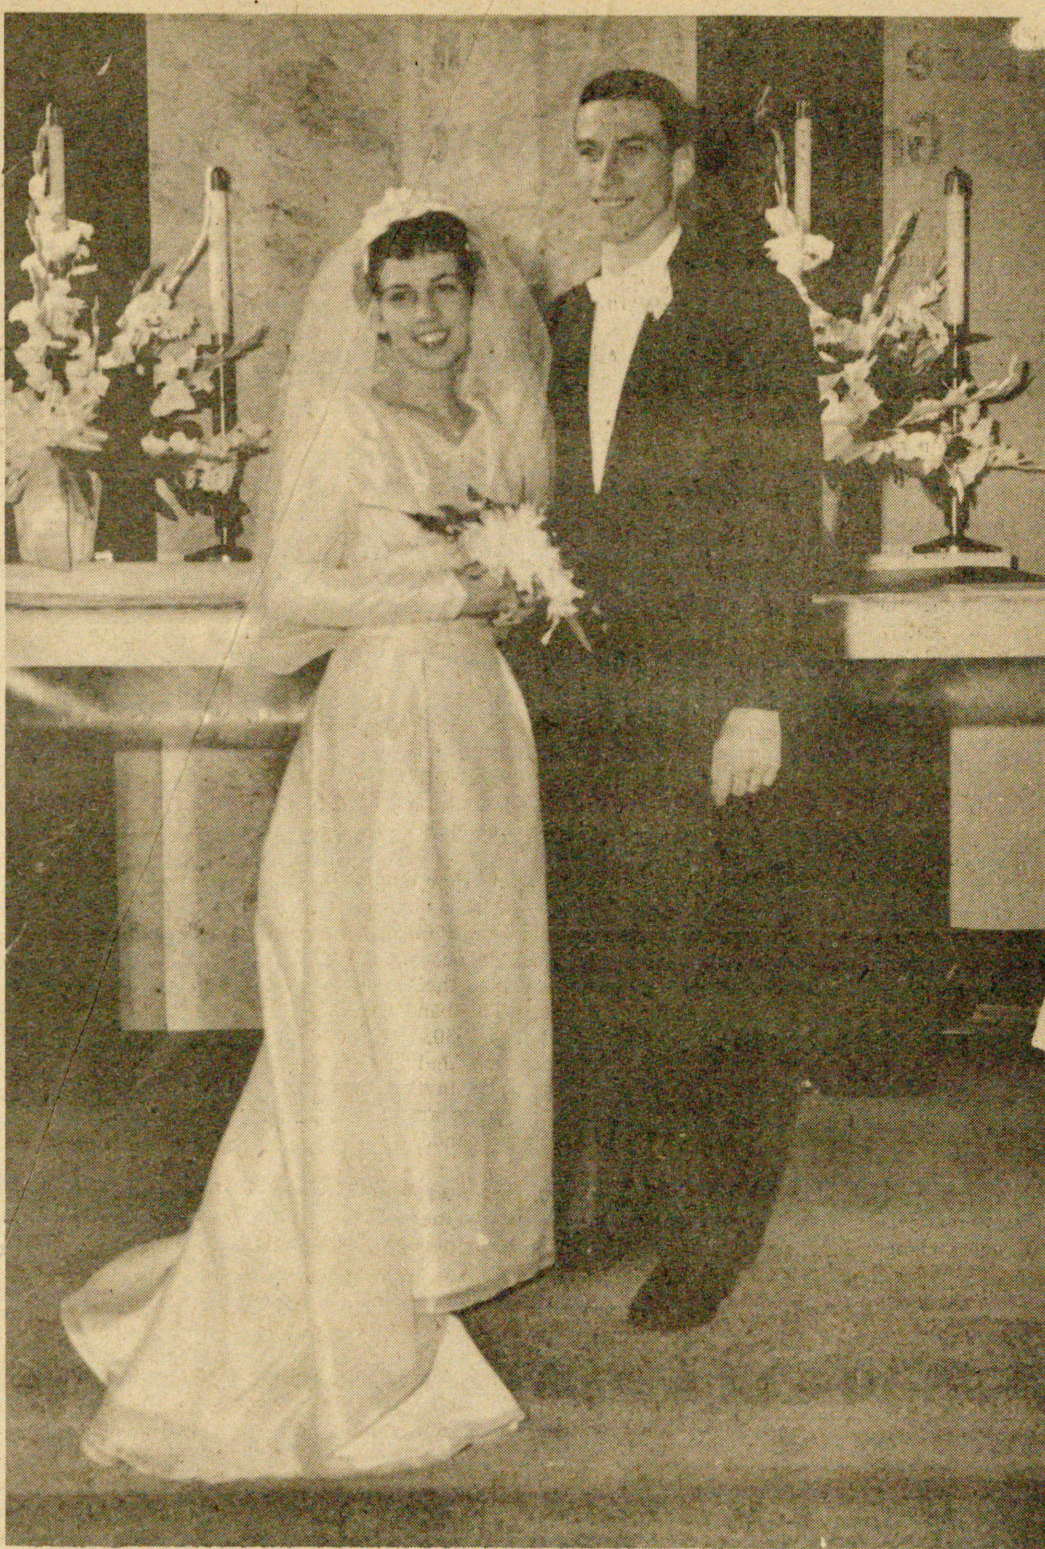

Mrs. Harry Griffin, organist, played appropriate wedding selections and soloists were, Miss Sandra Milcher and Mrs. Harry Griffin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white crystal poile over taffeta. The fitted bodice was designed with long tapered sleeves, and a neckline edged in chantilly lace highlighted with soft folds of material over the shoulders. The sheath floor length skirt featured a chapel length train highlighted by a fluffy bow. A white satin flower topped the elbow length veil. The bride carried a crescent shaped bouquet of white feathered 'mums and stephanotis.

Miss Irene Frisse of Edwardsville, Ill., attended the bride as maid of honor, with Miss Joan Zusag, sister of the bride and Miss Annis Weber, sister of the groom as bridesmaids. They were gowned identically in street length dresses of magenta poile de soie, with simple boat neckline and short sleeves highlighted with cummerbund, ending in a cabbage rose of the same material. They wore headpieces of white and carried carnations to match their dresses on their white muffs.

The flower girl, Deborah Toepper, niece of the groom, wore a short dress of white brocade with a wreath of white baby mums, for her headpiece and carried a small white basket of rose petals.

Terry Weber, brother of the groom served as best man.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH WEBER

Ushers were Ronald Fredin, and Douglas Mullikan.

About 250 guests attended the wedding reception held immediately after the ceremony at the Ingalls Park Community Center.

Mrs. Zusag, mother of the bride wore a turquoise blue jacket dress of silk shantung. She wore a cymbidium orchid corsage. Mrs. Weber, mother of the groom, wore a navy blue crepe sheath, and a pink carnation corsage.

For their wedding trip to the Lake Tower Motel in Chicago, the bride was attired in a black wool crepe sheath, and wore a corsage of white baby mums.

The newlyweds are now at home, at 1004 Bradley ave., Peoria, Ill.

Swimming Lessons To Begin At Carl Sandburg

On Saturday, March 31, the Carl Sandburg high school will begin the third session of their annual Saturday morning swimming school. The ten lesson session will take place at the high school pool from March 31 to June 9 (excluding April 21), between the hours of 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. All elementary school students who are seven years of age or older are eligible for the swimming school.

Robert Grindey, Sandburg aquatic director, and a staff of Water Safety Instructors and Water Safety Aides, will handle the instruction program. The classes will be 45 minutes in length. No spectators are allowed until the final class session. Classes will definitely be held at the beginner, advanced beginner and intermediate levels. The more advanced swimming and lifesaving courses will be offered if sufficient interest is shown.

The fee for the ten lesson course is $7.50, which includes suit, towel, and any American Red Cross swimming certificates for which the student qualifies. Checks should be made payable to Carl Sandburg high school. No refunds will be made after the first class session unless a doctor's excuse is presented.

Registration for this third session of the swimming school will be held at the Sandburg swimming pool office on Saturday March 17 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and Saturday March 24 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. The pool office is at the southwestern end of the building and registrants are asked to use the swimming pool entrance, rather than the front entrance of the school. There will be positively no changes in schedule after registration.

More information as to the exact time of the different classes may be obtained at the registration desk.

EILEEN HOOLEHAN
Mokena 5153

Persons interested in running for the Mokena school board, District 159, may pick up nominating petitions from James Stewart, 11410 West 194th street, secretary of the board. The petitions of the candidates for election must be presented to Mr. Stewart by Saturday, March 24.

There are two full terms and one term for a single year to be filled at the election April 14th. The three year terms are presently held by Edwin Yunker and Hans Muehler, while the one year term is held by Chester Ebert who was appointed to finish out the unexpired term of Lyman Teague, Sr. Mr. Muehler has indicated that he will not be a candidate for election to the school board for this term.

The next meeting of the Arby Hills Community Organization will be held at the home of Hill and Betty Reszel on Rose Lane, Tuesday, March 20, at 8 p.m. There will be a short business meeting followed by Tripoli, pinocle, scrabble, bridge, (all with prizes) and just plain conversation. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Robert Mackey and Mrs. Al Mitchell.

House numbers will be given out at the meeting and also the six months social calendar of the organization will be presented.

Robert Best of Stephanie Lane was among the honored guests at a dinner given by the Boy Scouts of America at Valley View Estates in Hinsdale. Mr. Best was awarded the Wood Badge beads and neckerchief. He is an executive of Portage district of the Boy Scouts of America, Chicago council.

The Men's Club of Immanuel Lutheran church will hold a Father-Son banquet on Friday, March 16 at 7 p.m. Following the dinner motion pictures will be shown, including one of the Indianapolis automobile races. Members of the committee for this annual dinner are Walter Bernard, Irvin Holm and Alan Borchert.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Homering became the parents of a son, Todd Robert, on March 4 at Silver Cross hospital. The baby weighed seven pounds, 13 ounces.

Friendly Circle of St. John's United Church of Christ will hold its annual smorgasbord on Tuesday, March 20 from 5 to 8 p.m. The price of the tickets is $1.60 for adults; 80¢ for children six to twelve; and 40¢ for children under six.

Girl Scout Troop #335 cooked everything for their evening meal on Tuesday, March 13, at their regular weekly meeting held at Mokena Methodist church hall. In order to earn their homemaker and cook proficiency badges, the 22 girls in the troop had to prepare everything from start to finish. The Rev. Robert King of Mokena Methodist church was their guest.

Leaders of Troop #335 are Mrs. Robert Land and Mrs. Leon Holman.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Mokena Methodist church will meet on Thursday, March 15 at 1:30 p.m.

Following a very short business meeting of the Mokena Band Boosters on Tuesday, March 20, the Mokena grade school band will play their concert numbers. The band will play promptly at 7:30. The 27 new members and their parents are especially invited to this meeting. There are now 72 members in the band.

At the district contest, held at Waterman, Illinois, members of St. Mary's band placed as follows: Mark Petnuch, cornet, 1st; Paul Shuck, cornet, 2nd; Michael Derrig, cornet, 2nd; Susan Paska, cornet, 3rd; Michael Craven, drums, 2nd; Janet Wagner, alto horn, 2nd; Martin Stanicz, alto sax, 2nd; John O'Connor, clarinet, 2nd; Karen Paska, flute, 3rd; Joyce Stevens, flute, 2nd; and Rosemary Doctor, flute, 2nd.

Dear Sir:

On behalf of the Music Parents Association of Carl Sandburg high school, Orland Park, may I take this opportunity to thank you for your generous support of our activities.

We realize that organizations are often remiss in their expressions of appreciation for the services rendered by local newspapers but try to counteract this failing by patronizing the newspaper's advertisers and subscribing to the papers.

Dear Sir:

Thank you for the fine front page article in the Orland Park Herald about the Community

Kindergarten Program Depends On Enrollment

Mrs. Vernon Lankenau, chairman of the kindergarten committee of the Mokena Woman's club, wishes to remind parents of children eligible for kindergarten next year that registrations are being taken now for the 1962-63 school year. The school is open to all children who will be five on or before Dec. 1, 1962.

The Mokena Woman's club operates the kindergarten as a public service at cost. Four hundred dollars must be spent monthly for teacher's salary and rent alone before any supplies are purchased so that at least 22 pupils must be enrolled to make expenses.

The Woman's club would like to continue the school next year and will underwrite the deficit if at least 20 pupils are enrolled, but the club does not wish to continue to conduct the school unless it is largely self-supporting. If 20 registrations have been received by May 1, the club will go ahead with plans for the next year. Twelve pupils have registered thus far. If the remaining eight are not received by May 1, then the $5 deposit paid by these advance registrants will be returned and the kindergarten will not be held next year, it was stated.

The Mokena Woman's club feels that parents may not understand the necessity for the $18 monthly tuition and would like to be sure that interested persons are aware of the expense involved in operating the school.

The director of the kindergarten is an experienced, certified teacher with many personal qualities which have made her a much-loved beginning teacher for those children who have had her guidance.

Mrs. William E. Howard, New Lenox, has been the director for the two years of the kindergarten's existence. Excellent reports have been received by the club from parents of children who have been enrolled in kindergarten, and first grade teachers have indicated that those pupils this year who had the advantage of kindergarten were much better prepared to begin their school experience.

Parents desiring to register their children should phone Mrs. George Rumbley at 5495.

The kindergarten has no connection with any church, Mrs. Lankenau emphasized. The school has been held in a large room rented from the local Methodist church but has no other link with any church. Children have been enrolled from all churches.

This year's kindergarten pupils are eagerly anticipating their next field trip, a visit to a matinee performance of the Shrine Circus at Medinah Temple, Chicago, on March 14. This trip was made last year and was much enjoyed by all the pupils.

What Price Junior College?

There has been considerable wordage, spoken and written the past few weeks on the question of whether the Lincoln-Way high school district become affiliated, in some fashion, with the Joliet junior college or whether it becomes a part of a proposed southwest suburban community junior college district. The suburban district would be comprised of seven high school districts, six of which are in Cook county.

From the impassioned manner in which this question has been argued when the pros and cons get together one could get the impression that it has become the sole topic of conversation and the chief interest are area residents.

Some inquiries, however, reveal that a surprisingly large number of residents apparently have little interest in the subject other than that it will require additional taxes regardless of which plan is followed. And they are not too keen on that.

Many of them reason that it would be better to take care of the district's problems first, one of the most important at the time being the need to expand present quarters of the high school.

There are quite a number who figure that it is sufficient for the public to provide grade and high schools and that the obligation ends there; that it is not up to the public to provide schools at college level. They figure that it is up to the individual who wants a college education to meet the expense of such.

They feel that anyone who wants a college education enough can get it and if he or she has to earn it they are apt to appreciate it more.

It is not known what the feeling is on the proposed junior college district in the other high school districts effected but if the feeling in them is akin to that in Lincoln-

Way district the proposition would be voted down.

And from what we can ascertain from talk with individuals scattered about the Lincoln-Way district it is not believed that any hook up with Joliet junior college would fare any differently if submitted to a referendum.

"Why take on any more school taxes than we have already?" was the way one man summed it up. "Look -- the people of Lincoln-Way district turned down a request by the board for approval of a $750,000 bond issue. The money is needed to enlarge the school. There is no doubt about it -- the expansion of the school plant is a necessity. The enrollment will be over the 1,000 mark next year and there isn't enough room in the school now to provide class space for the 850 students it has at present.

"If this bond issue was voted down because people didn't want to pay any more taxes -- and I think that was the main reason they voted against it -- why should they vote to tax themselves still further to provide a comparatively few youngsters with a junior college education, either thru a tax to pay tuition or a tax to operate a junior college district.

"We are obligated to furnish the children of the district with a grade and high school education. We are not obligated to send them to college -- junior or senior. That is their problem.

"Let's take care of the needs of the high school first. We are fortunate to have a board and school administrators that exhibit a great deal of common sense as well as financial acumen in spending the public's money. They have built up a good school, with high educational standards and I hope we can keep it that way."

Jail--For Farmers?

The federal government can't run the nation's farms, and its ineptitude has been brilliantly demonstrated by the failure of one farm program after another for the past 30 years. The taxpayers now have a $2.7 billion investment, not counting storage and handling charges, in 1.4 billion bushels of wheat and feed grains -- almost a three-year domestic supply.

It has been estimated that the administration's new farm program could cut wheat surpluses 225 million bushels a year. If accepted by Congress and the farmers, the new plan will enforce rigid production controls and marketing quotas on both wheat and feed grains.

The Secretary of Agriculture has said that a provision providing jail sentences for farmers who fail to keep proper records will strengthen the program. This highlights an interesting point about benefits from government that all groups seeking or accepting federal largess should take to heart.

Federal control follows federal money. One thing is sure. If you accept political favors, you had better control enough votes to put the fear of the polls into the politicians granting them. Otherwise the road may become rocky, indeed. And now, jail is suggested as an indoctrination method -- in the U.S.A.!

There can't be free farmers when government controls eliminate the free market system -- agriculture will wind up as some form of communal project, under the thumb of a political boss.

Spike That Postal Hike

Irrked by mounting pressure against proposed postal hikes on America's periodicals, the Post Office Department has resorted to telling newspaper and magazine publishers how to operate their businesses.

It was obvious at a recent hearing of the Senate Post Office Committee on postal increases that Senators have a higher regard than postal officials for the important services performed for the reading public by weekly and daily newspapers and other periodicals.

Despite this senatorial attitude, Deputy Postmaster General Brawley suggested that periodical postal rates should be raised because publishers are making every effort to hold the line on subscription rates for the purpose of increasing readership.

Brawley disclosed in effect an intent and desire to regulate competitive practices of the industry to prevent publishers from reaching enough homes to carry cost-covering advertising rates. This, if allowed, is undisguised censorship, and it is use of government power to reduce the number of publications so that survivors may, theoretically at least, live in greener pastures.

The primary function of a publisher is to deliver to his readers at the lowest possible cost the finest publication his editors can turn out, consistent with revenues received from subscriptions and advertising. To do less would be to deprive his readers of their right to be kept fully informed.

If a publisher puts out a newspaper or a magazine that more and more people want to read, then he is serving his readers, his community and his country well, in spite of what the postal establishment thinks. But to do so, a publisher must keep advertising rates in line with circulation, as subscriptions cover only a fraction of publishing costs.

Moreover, publishers and advertisers alike know that many people purchase magazines and newspapers for their advertising, as well as their editorial content. Economists and government officials know that advertisements in these publications cause people to purchase the things they need and want, thus contributing importantly to our fine way of life and to the nation's growth.

As a reader, you have a stake in the confiscatory second class rate proposed in HR 7927. If you want to continue to receive your favorite newspapers and magazines at prices you can afford, tell your Senators NOW that you oppose this onerous tax.

Remember, a Senator's mail bag is one of his most important working tools.

On Second Thot

By GLENN F. LOGAN

Well, here we are again in the midst of primary election campaigns but they seem to lack something. There is an absence of color and zing that once marked such contests and we suppose there are a lot of people who will hail this as a marked change for the better.

Maybe so but just the same they have grown dull. Chicago elections still contain some flavor but such affairs have grown more prosaic in the smaller communities and counties.

There are many reasons for this and the change hasn't come over night. In fact the change began many years ago. Probably the greatest influence in changing campaign techniques was radio.

There are some, many in fact, who will say, "What about TV?"

Well, TV has had a great influence in bringing about changes in campaign practices but it began with radio. Politicians seized on this instrument as soon as it became popular. People used to stay home and listen to their radios, just as now they have become addicted to TV or hi-fi and stereo.

Before radio people went to lodges, clubs and political meetings. After radio they began staying at home in droves. Attendance at political meetings fell off and never recovered. Rallies that once packed halls became turnouts for payrollers and their relatives, candidates, politicians and camp followers.

So the candidates changed their tactics. They still visit communities and some of them make door to door solicitation of votes but when they found that people stayed home rather than show up at political meetings, the candidates went to where they were, the living rooms, via radio.

More candidates use radio than TV. For one thing there are not so many local TV stations and for another thing radio is cheaper. And there is another factor too -- the candidate who is photogenic has an advantage over the one who is not.

In the beginning the candidates using radio frequently came up with more individualistic speeches but they pretty much follow the same pattern today.

The live meeting was really the best, from an observer's standpoint. He could not only listen but from the attitude, actions and vocal reaction he was in a better position to evaluate the claims or charges than just hearing a voice.

The man with the quick mind, the gift of repartee and the ability to think on his feet are the top talents in political campaigning and if on top of these qualities he has what people refer to as "an honest face," then he really has it made.

The late State Senator Richard J. Barr who served Will and DuPage counties in the Illinois senate for 50 years was not only a skilled campaigner but he worked long hours at being a public servant and he was quite a successful one. A political writer on one of the Chicago dailies once described Senator Barr as a man who could run up and down the keyboard of a grand piano -- with or without his shoes on -- and never make a sound.

I remember being at a meeting once at which the senator, at the time a candidate for reelection, was one of the speakers. He had scarcely begun when the neighborhood supporter of Barr's primary rival arose to his feet and began asking questions -- why was this done, why wasn't it done, what could senator do if such and such came up and so on and so on.

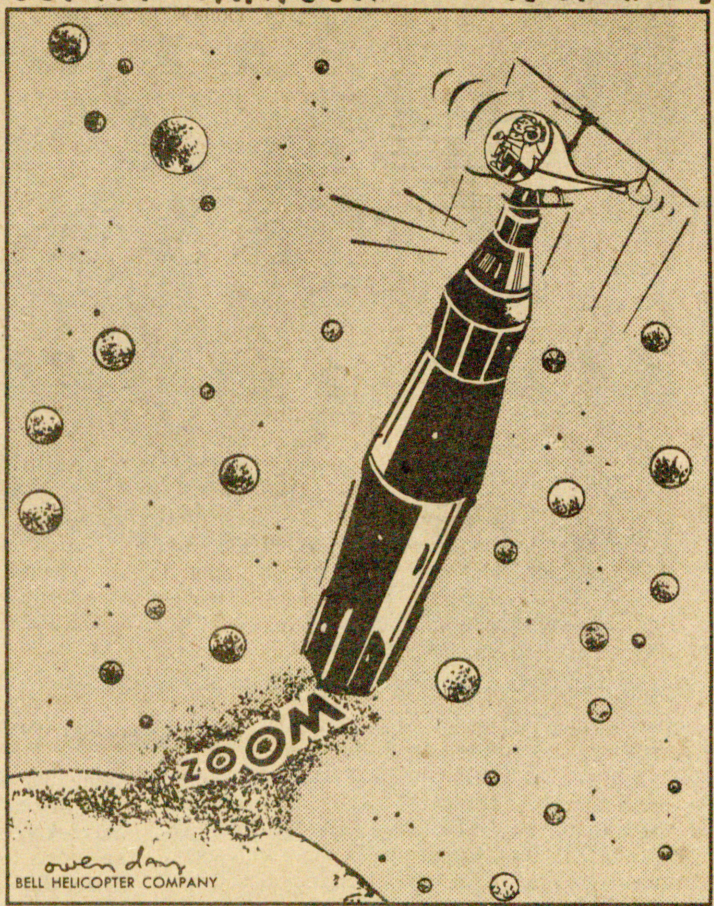

"I'm glad you asked those questions," the senator said when he could finally get in some words of his own. "You know," he went on confidently to the audience, "it would be a great

Illinois Safety Council show that next to poor judgment, disorder is the largest single cause of injuries on the farm. And unfortunately, these accidents very often involve children.

Between eleven and thirteen thousand of our small loved ones are killed in this country annually by accidents. The solution to the problem rests largely in the hands of parents. help to us down there in Springfield if you people would ask us questions and express your views on situations. And now if this very intelligent gentleman, who I am sure is a very talented speaker and a keen student of economics, social science, finance, and has a wide experience in the science of government -- and now sir, if you will just step up here on this stage you will do me a great service and your neighbors a great service by telling us what you would do to solve these problems and then you could answer some questions for us, for me and for the people here."

Of course this poor fellow was in a fix. He knew the neighbors knew how little he knew -- he knew the neighbors knew that he was pretty much of an empty barrel; (they make the most noise you know) and he became tongue tied. He shook his head miserably and sat down. Barr wound up the meeting quickly and with the people going out of the hall commenting about what a spectacle this dud had made of himself the senator let them see that he bore no ill will by catching up with the fellow before he reached the door and shaking hands told him again how much he had enjoyed having those questions raised.

Then one night in the mill district of Joliet in a hot primary fight for sheriff that involved religious and racial issues your correspondent arrived before the candidate in whose behalf the meeting was held. The seats at the front of the hall were filled but toward the rear there was a section completely empty. I sat down back there. It was then I noticed a dozen fellows sitting along one side of the hall. I knew several of them so I looked across the hall where there were about an equal number of men seated along the wall. They were strangers to me. The one of the men I knew looked at me. The look said he wanted to see me.

"That is a very uncomfortable seat you have there," he said, "why don't you get back in the vestibule, or better yet why don't you go outside."

I thanked him and went out in the vestibule, remaining until it was announced the main candidate would not be there. Then strangers who sat along one wall drifted out and I went home. Couple of days later I learned these strangers were imports were commissioned to break up the meeting and rough up some of the camp followers and maybe the candidate himself. There were some guns there, it developed, and but for the advice of my acquaintance I could have been in a VERY uncomfortable seat indeed.

Some ordinarily astute analysts point to the fact that for some time the daily volume of trading on the New York Stock Exchange, has been around 3 million shares with no decisive direction. They express the belief that trading must increase to 5 million shares of daily trading, to establish a market direction.

For a number of years there have been predictions that there would soon be pipe lines to carry mixtures of water and pulverized coal for use of utilities. The coal pipe line has now been approved for a line from West Virginia to Philadelphia and New York. Savings in transportation costs of up to half, are expected. This saving will approximate one third of the delivered price of the coal.

Such pipe lines will be built only into areas which have a high and stable demand for steam coal for use in boilers which operate at high temperatures and use pulverized coal. Such pipe lines will adversely affect coal traffic on eastern railroads with heavy coal traffic. Plans for such handling of coal, are likely to influence coffees. I remember a Sunday afternoon at the old German-American Republican club on Joliet's Bluff street with Fred Voigt, club president presiding. He introduced a judge, seeking reelection, who got up from his chair and began speaking from there, facing Fred.

Mr. Voigt held up his hand -- a gesture that must universally serve as signal to shush:

"Oh no you don't Judge," he protested, shaking his head, "Don't stand back there and shoot that bushwa up here at me . . . come on up front . . . that's it . . . up front . . . now stand right there now and shoot that bushwa back at the people!"

You don't get that sort of thing at coffees.

Business & Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The stock market as a whole, has been indecisive as to direction except for technical indicators which are interpreted to be bullish in nature. Some commentators have been describing the market as one of watchful waiting with business indicators definitely bullish.

The very bad weather of late, has been a retarding factor for general business.

Many analysts note that the news on status of the labor contract negotiations with steel firms, has been somewhat conflicting. There is little news as to the exact differences between the negotiators. The negotiators had adjourned their talks for a future date, but government pressure will bring negotiators together again shortly. Financial services and financial news, seems to indicate little belief that there will be a strike. The building up of steel inventories by industry, indicate little fear of a strike.

The steel situation is given credit as a strong contributing factor in the slow pace and lack of decisive direction of the market. However, some of the analysts with wide and favorable reputations, describe the present market as one in which consolidation and indecision has lasted longer than expected. These analysts also express belief that this indecision is a prelude to a rising market which will reflect the fact that corporate earnings are at peace time peak.

Earnings for the first quarter of 1962 are expected to be larger than the fourth quarter of 1961 and considerably above the first quarter of 1961.

Some ordinarily astute analysts point to the fact that for some time the daily volume of trading on the New York Stock Exchange, has been around 3 million shares with no decisive direction. Hints For Homeowners

By JAMES FIZZELL

From the reports coming in to our office, the 1962 Chicago World's Flower and Garden Show will be the most spectacular yet.

Advance sale tickets are now available for the show from your neighborhood Allied Florists, and Chicago Horticulture Society members. The show runs from March 24 - April 1 at McCormick Place.

Twelve of the most exciting displays in McCormick Place will have the touch of the folks who make their living growing and arranging flowers and plants. Some 2,000 Allied Florists (in 21 states) have contributed their products and talents in what will be the most complete displays of commercial flowers ever shown in one place. These have been gathered from across the continent and farther. A vast proportion however, have been grown in the shadow of McCormick Place by Commercial Flower Growers of Chicago, the Chicago Carnation Growers' and Chicagoland Rose Growers'.

Immediately north of the main area, you will find prime examples of floral displays and decorations as done by the professionals. Hundreds of florists have given of their time and talents to set up and maintain this display, and if your lucky, you may catch one of them at work making up replacement displays. You will find all varieties labeled by name.

The art of arranging flowers is exemplified in an immense display by members of Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association. These folks are adept at having your flowers say "what you mean them to say," and have devised many ingenious stylings to create the illusions and sentiments that fit any occasion. Plan your visits so you will have ample time to brush up on flower lore at this section. Professional attendants will be on hand at all times to answer questions.

If you are at all interested in flowers, you are aware that arranged flowers from home gardens, or sent from the flower shops, should follow well defined lines and procedures. As a hobby, flower arranging can be intriguing and rewarding if a few rules are followed. To help you, flower designers will appear daily at 6:30 to 7:15 p.m. in the Garden Theatre of Horticultural Hall (southeast section of the flower show). They will be presenting live demonstrations of the art, using real flowers and all the props and accessories. There is no extra admission charge for these features.

The Garden Theater is also the home of many other demonstrations by famous amateur arrangers, as well as flower films in sound and color, sponsored by the Chicago Horticultural Society.

Choral groups will be surrounded by a special orchid section described as the most complete educational exhibit ever assembled for these most exotic blooms. Priceless live plants are shown in native settings in the north feature area, all labeled and attended by professional orchidists who are prepared to answer any questions for amateur growers. This exciting display is under the direction of C. Haussermann Co. which operates immense greenhouses at Elmhurst, Illinois, stocked with orchids for the flower markets and with live plants offered for home decoration. A few of the many varieties are mentioned, and are shown again at the Haussermann booth, No. 62-B. Among them many hybrid and species cattleya orchids; phalaenopsis blooms commonly known as "Moth orchids;" cymbidium sprays; miltonias (pansy orchids); dendrobiums' odontoglossums and oncidium orchids.

Charles Klehm and Son Nurseries at Arlington Heights have repeated their many visits to this flower show. Carl Klehm has designed a patio and woodland display in garden No. 7. He goes naturalistic, with reduction in freight rates on coal in the area likely to be affected. Other areas will also belikely to consider such pipe lines due to the substantial savings. This method of transporting coal and reduction of costs to utilities will have a number of results not readily apparent. An important point will be increasing the advantages of coal in generation of electricity, as to most metropolitan locations. Water power generation is usually from plants a distance from point of electric consumption. Power dams are expensive to build and must be operated at a high percentage of capacity to earn a profit after taxes, interest and amortization. Coal generation plants are comparatively cheap and located near point of use with small transmission costs.

Shade plants and flowers in a setting of evergreens. Klehm's is famous for its peonies, including the recent introduction of J. C.

Several of the most spectacular gardens are assigned to members of Allied Florists'. A simulated Children's Park has Amling's Flowerland collaborating with Carson, Pirie, Scott certainly one of the most original displays ever presented at a flower show. The props include a Kiddle "Karousel," a Maypole, and a party setting within patterns of pink and white flowering azaleas.

An old favorite, the lily of the valley, will be in full bloom at the florists' exhibits. These are at greenhouses of N.H. Bruns Co., at Palos Park, and the original pips (bulbs) were especially sent by the famous Neubert firm at Hamburg, Germany.

The "Alliance of Progress" goes inter-continental in gardens four and five, (facing the fountain spectacular) designed and maintained by A. Lange, Inc., at Chicago and Oak Park. In a salute to our State Department, each country of South America and North America is patterned with live decorative plants. Homer Lange mentions some of the varieties; Godsfiana Florida; variegated Peperomia; Philodendron cordatum.

Geraniums will be in bloom in garden No. 13 (south), a project of Edwards Florists, Winnetka. In the midst of the city's frigid approach to Spring, the trick is pretty much a professional secret, divulged for us by Joseph Bezdek, scion of a famous Belgian grower and, essentially a grower of cut flowers. Some of these superb specimens have been trained into miniature trees. A good many are varieties new this year to the show. You will not their effective props and accessories; ivies shaped in globes and pyramids.

Vaughan's Seed Company, pioneers in the gardening field and noted in the florists' industry for serving professional growers with seeds, bulbs, and greenhouse accessories, was assigned an extremely interesting theme, an intriguing planting of lilies hybridized for the garden. The varieties are labeled for enthusiasts in a striking setting. Landscapers will note that this design goes modern.

Summer annuals go formal at Garden No. 11, a central display. This is a project of Scheffers' flowers, grower family of many years standing, and now operated by the second generation. The plants have been coaxed into bloom in expert planning at the firm's greenhouses in Wheaton. Bert Scheffler names many practical varieties for Spring planting in home gardens.

Urban dwellers are especially remembered in a backyard garden setting in the east section. Planning and growing was done at Flowerwood, Crystal Lake. Among the varieties to be identified in this garden are: Barberry Crimson Pygma (dwarf); Clump birch; Malus Almey (Flowering Crab) Taxus Halloran; Douglas Fir -- all expertly planted in the show's "Tranquility Garden."

Last but not least, a perennial exhibitor, Jackson & Perkins, of Neward (New York state, that is), have planted some 2,000 square feet in a "Tropical" rose garden. In this spectacular planting of garden roses, taking many months of planning and effort, you will find the new "South Sea" variety surely going places in the exciting world of roses. The reputation of J & P extends also into the professional field, where these hybridizers for many years have introduced numerous hybrid tea and polyantha (miniature roses) grown under glass for the exacting professional trade.

NI-Gas Hikes Dividend Rate

Northern Illinois Gas Company directors have voted to increase the quarterly dividend rate on its common stock to 38 cents a share, it was announced by Marvin Chandler, president. This action places the common stock dividend on an annual rate of $1.52 a share. The new quarterly dividend rate, payable May 1 to stockholders of record March 22, is 8 per cent higher than the 35-cent rate effective May 1, 1961.

"The directors' action," Chandler said, "recognized the continued improvement in our earnings. Despite a dilution of about 6 per cent resulting from the issuance of new stock during 1961, earnings for 1961 were $2.24 a share, compared with $2.04 for 1960. These results were achieved on revenues of $148 million, 13 per cent above 1960 sales."

PLAN BOWLING TOURNEY - The Romeoville Volunteer Fire Department has scheduled an April Fool Firefighters Bowling Tournament for Sunday, April 1. Over 40 departments are expected to enter and the estimated prize fund is $1000. The tourney will be held at Lemont Bowling Lanes and all scores will be scratch, with a maximum of two teams per department. Team entry fee is $25. Invitations have been sent to 128 fire departments and entries have been received from Addison, Berwyn, Batavia, East Joliet, Elmhurst, Hodgkins, Itasca, Manhattan, Mokena, Morris, Norwood, Oak Forest, Pleasant View, Schiller Park, West Chicago, Wheaton and Worth. All the teams will be composed of firemen alone and entries close March 17.

Homer Homemakers Are Guests Of Mrs. Vince Billek

By ELIZABETH ANDERSON
Members of the Homer Twp. unit of the Will County Home Makers Association were entertained in the home of Mrs. Vince Billek on Bell Rd. last Tuesday. Dessert-coffee was served at 12:30, after which routine business was transacted. The major lesson, "Is Credit a Help or a Hazard?" was given by a local leader, followed by a general discussion. This group has recently had the name changed; it was formerly the Will County Home Bureau.

The annual spelling elimination contest for 6th, 7th and 8th graders will be held at Homer school, 33-C, on Thursday evening, March 15, at the school. Miss Judith Cunningham will pronounce; the judges will be Mrs. Mary K. Baltz, Mrs. Gladys Jensen and Miss Donna Dobbs; Mrs. Emily Carlson will be timekeeper, and Miss Geri Smego will keep track of rounds. The winner and an alternate will go to the sectional contest.

The Country Charms 4-H club displayed its annual exhibit in a window south of the Lockport Golden Triangle Photo National Bank. The Homer Fire Flies' exhibit was in the Federated Store window. The Fire Flies were named "4-H Club of the Year" at the recent county Achievement Day Program.

The Wayside Workers' Circle of King's Daughters held a much delayed meeting at Homer Church Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Donald Aspel acting as hostess. She also led the Bible lesson. This was followed by group discussion. During the business session, arrangements were made to pay the Circle's share of an assessment on the Hannah Harwood Girls' Club, which is a county project. Plans were also discussed for sponsoring a Bridal Gown Revue, to take place in June. Mrs. J. J. Paddock was named as chairman. She will choose her additional committees.

The first of the combined Lenten services of Lockport area churches was held at the First Methodist Church of Lockport the evening of March 11. The Evangelical Covenant Church will be host to the group on March 18. Rev. Moore will be the main speaker.

Rev. Stanley Cox spoke at the Youth meeting at the Trinity Lutheran Church on Ash Wednesday morning.

Mrs. John White, Mrs. John Hollister, Mrs. Lois Swanson and Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson were among those who attended the Lockport area World Day of Prayer service at the Fairmont Methodist Church Friday afternoon. Mrs. White was organist for the day and Mrs. Hollister was the soloist.

On March 18, Rev. Cox's sermon topic will be "Persistence." These morning services are being very well attended and it is hoped that the Lenten season will attract even more people.

Civic Association Backs Youth Movement Program

MRS. EDWARD HOVI
Mokena 5740

There is a Youth Movement being established for young people between the ages of thirteen and eighteen. This Youth Movement is being sponsored by the Arbury Hills Civic Association as a combined social and civic organization. The group will include both Arbury Hills and the surrounding area entailed in the Summit Hill School District 161.

The Civic Association will also make another effort to establish a Little League type baseball team for the area. The sponsorship of the team was voted on by the membership at the last general meeting held at the school on Tuesday evening, March 6.

There was also a committee formed to deal with the necessary finances needed in the sponsorship of the baseball team. There were six volunteers for this committee: Mrs. Archie Estes, Mrs. Byron Skinner, Leonard Gunty, Ton Tanis, Dick Mansell, and Carl Lawson. A playing diamond will also have to be found for the baseball team to use. This team will be composed of those boys who have written permission from their parents and are between the ages of nine and twelve.

The annual activities report of the Civic Association has been made up and edited, and will be duplicated and passed out to the membership within the next two weeks.

There will be a dinner meeting held at Lincoln-Way high school on Thursday, March 15 between the hours of 4:00 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. The cost of the dinner will be $2. This dinner meeting will concern itself with school drop-outs and youth employment. If you wish to attend, contact J. E. Ewing at SA 6-4578.

A. A. Dina, a civil defense deputy in Will county, gave a talk on local civil defense in Mokena; and the possibility of organizing a civil defense unit in Arbury Hills proper. Any such organized unit would be under the jurisdiction of Will county.

Mr. Dina gave a resume of the procedural workings of the Mokena civil defense unit in the event of an emergency, whether of a natural or a man-made disaster. After the conclusion of his talk he answered the questions of the group and gave out several booklets on civil defense and the preparations the ordinary citizen to be prepared.

When the question period ended, Mr. Dina showed two short films, one entitled "The Three Furies", which dealt with three hurricanes.

The second film was "Precision Command Guidance for Ballistics Missile" which dealt with the first successful launching and subsequent recovery of a nose cone in 1954.

A law has been found concerning dogs, a dog must have rabies tags, according to the rabies law, Chapter 8, Section 23-1. Any dog not so tagged can be considered a stray dog and can be picked up.

The regular monthly meeting of the Summit Hill Parent Teacher Group was held at the school on Thursday evening, March 8. Verne Cracker who was to attend was unable to do so, but sent his assistant Boyd Bucher to give the talk in his place on the formation of a seven-man school board of education instead of the present three-man board of directors.

The seventh grade under Mr. McCarthy, received the plaque for the greatest attendance by pupils, 91.1%, for the past month. The $2 award for the best attendance by parents at the meeting was given to the fifth grade under Mrs. Gilbert.

The membership voted to accept the suggestions made by the committee for "Fun Night". It was decided to have a carnival type night with games, and various booths. The tentative date is set for Nov. 3. This will be the only fund raising project of the year.

The next general meeting of the Parent Teacher Group will be held at the school on Thursday evening, April 12. At this meeting there will be held the annual election of officers. The nominating committee, in spite of difficulties, are confident of having a full slate of potential officers for the election night.

The survey conducted to establish the potential number of school age Catholic children in Arbury Hills, is now completed. There are approximately eighty school age Catholic children.

The survey will now be turned over to the Bishop of Joliet for analysis. If all goes well, Arbury Hills will have a school and church for the beginning of the fall semester.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mosel of 9436 West Hickory Street are the proud new parents of their second boy, Rickey Allen, who came into the world at Silver Cross Hospital in Joliet, weighing seven pounds four ounces on March 5. Young Rickey has one older brother, Randy, who is just about a year and one-half old.

bert Campbell of 15016 Holiday Ct., is serving aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Valley Forge which is taking part in Exercise Keel Block, a joint Navy-Marine Corps amphibious training exercise along the coast of California.

The big night for Cub Scout Pack 318 was Saturday, February 24 when the Blue and Gold Banquet was held at Carl Sandburg high school. A delicious dinner consisting of ham and all the trimmings, was served at 6:30 p.m. The program began at 8 p.m. Among the guests present were the Rev. Adolph Lach, Ralph Town, Joseph Kaiser, James Cummings, John Capodice, Mrs. Howard Braasch and Ray Radeke. Many awards were given to boys including new badges, gold and silver arrows, and dinner and assistant dinner badges. A movie entitled "First Aid and Safety" was then shown. Inspection and roll call will be held at the next pack meeting on March 16 in the Orland Elementary School at 7:30 p.m. All fathers are asked to attend.

Mr. Frank Buck is a patient in Silver Cross Hospital, Joliet, undergoing treatment. He is in room 192.

Mrs. Lois Stedman of 94th Ave. is a patient under observation at St. Francis Hospital, Blue Island.

Mrs. Hilda Nitsche is home after an enjoyable vacation trip to Florida. She made her headquarters at Sanibel Island, Florida.

Mrs. Karl Ekberg, Mrs. John Loeb, Miss Augusta Peterson, Mrs. George Gee, Miss Ellen Moore, Mrs. Harry Anderson and Mrs. Harry Pihl made a surprise visit on Mrs. Dave Agate, Tuesday, March 6 to help her celebrate her birthday. They served coffee, cake and ice cream. In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Creer visited with Mrs. Agate.

Pvt. Walter E. Yunker who was stationed at Ft. Carson, Colorado Springs, Colo., has been transferred to Washington. His address is Pvt. Walter E. Yunker, U S 55723511, 629 Ord. Co. (F.S.) Ft. Lewis, Washington. His wife, Janice left last week to be with her husband in Washington. Their home address is 11811 Nyanza Road, Tacoma, 99, Washington.

Thursday, March 8, Mrs. Karl Ekberg and Mrs. Harvey

Cooper were guests at an "Around the World Luncheon" given by the Worth Methodist Church W. S. C. S. Priscilla Circle in charge. The countries represented were - Argentina, British Isles, France, Denmark, Sweden, Holland, Congo, India, Japan, Philippines and Mexico. The food from recipes of the various countries was prepared by the women and set on individual tables identified by the countries.

A special program followed the luncheon and opened with the guests singing a prayer - "In Christ There Is No East Or West".

Monday, March 19, the Ladies Auxiliary to the Firemen, will meet in the Fire Hall at 8 p.m. All members are urged to attend.

SACRED HEART high school held a special program on Sunday, February 25th, inducting fourteen Junior and Senior students into the National Honor Society.

The pledge of officers and members was conducted by Sister M. Madonna, O.S.F., with addresses by Reverend Mother Adeline, O.S.F. and Father Alphonse Coan, O.F.M.

Tells How To Install Heat Lamps

With winter still around, O.L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, has some good advice for using heat lamps for brooding pigs.

Get safe, properly designed fixtures, and then install them right. Whether you buy the fixtures or make them yourself, they should have these features:

1. The lamp should be protected by a canopy or shield.
2. The fixture should hang from a separate chain or wire, with no strain on the electric cord.
3. It should have a switch-less porcelain receptacle.
4. The cord should be resistant to moisture and high temperature. (Asbestos insulated cord with rubber or neoprene covering is satisfactory.)

In installing the lamps, protect the lamp unit from the sow by a sturdy barrier. The face of the lamp should be at least 18 inches from the bedding. If the fixture hangs in the open pen, it should clear the standing sow by at least six inches. Place the outlets so that no lamp cord will be longer than six feet. Use at least No. 12 (preferably No. 10 or 8) wire to serve outlets. Then protect the circuits with 20-ampere fuses. No more than seven 250-watt lamps should be connected to any one circuit.

Krusemark Asserts GOP Must Take Strong Stand

The Republican Party must stand specifically on strong, conservative issues and in so doing give the people a clear-cut alternative to the "welfare state" philosophy, Albert H. Krusemark told GOP audiences in DuPage and Will Counties this week.

In a series of hard-hitting speeches, Krusemark continued his vigorous campaigning as Republican candidate for State Senator in the 41st Senatorial District.

As a conservative Republican, Krusemark stated at the various meetings held in Joliet, Addison, Hinsdale and Lisle that he felt a deep, personal concern over the spread of the welfare state philosophy "that wants to make the individual a ward of the government from the cradle to the grave."

"It is against this insidious figure of the 'Big Brother' state that we must take our stand as conservative Republicans," he asserted. "There is no room for 'soft' Republicanism or 'positive' Republicanism or any other name you want to give to a dilution of the principles of true Republican conservatism."

Those principles, Krusemark said, have as their twin bedrocks a respect for the voter's dollar and an insistence on government in the hands of the people.

The GOP senatorial aspirant again voiced his unalterable opposition to a state income tax in any form. He pointed out that this was a stand he had enunciated in his original statement of candidacy, and that it would be his unchanging stand a year from now as state senator.

History has shown, Krusemark said, that any such tax becomes an increasingly oppressive burden on the people, as witness the federal income tax. He also pointed out that the absence of a state income tax has produced a healthy climate in Illinois for new business and industry, providing more wealth and revenue for the state than would the imposition of a new type of tax.

In his appeal for voter support, Krusemark also stressed the depth and diversity of his experience over the past 23 years in law, in business and in school affairs.

"If the people of DuPage and Will Counties were to think of the election as a process in which they were hiring a manager for a business with 500,000 stockholders (residents), they would certainly want to be very careful in screening the candidates and taking a close look at their education, their character, their background, their experience," Krusemark said. "On my record of proven experience, maturity, and sound judgment, I sincerely believe that I would fill the bill in all categories."

Krusemark's busy schedule of campaign activities for the week of March 12 included the following appearances:

Monday (March 12) - Coffee in NAPERVILLE; meeting of Assessors Association of DuPage County at ADDISON TOWNSHIP OFFICE; coffee in the home of Mrs. Christopher Norton, 441 E. Fourth St., HINSDALE, given by the Hinsdale Women's Republican Club.

Tuesday - JOLIET Exchange Club.

Wednesday - Young Republican Women's Club, Candidates meeting at BLOOMINGDALE SCHOOL.

READ PSALM 116: 1-9
Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. (Isaiah 55: 7.)

Anxious that a photograph of her be good, a woman tried to impress the photographer with that idea. "You needn't worry," he said. "My picture will do you justice." The woman answered, "But I don't want justice. I want mercy."

We all need mercy: for, as Paul says, "All have sinned, and come short of the glory of God." Simple justice is a phrase we used, and in many areas it is good. But justice for the sinner would mean condemnation and punishment.

Even without Paul's assertion, our hearts tell us we have sinned. We are guilty of doing what we should not have done. What may be even worse, we are guilty of leaving undone what we should have done.

The law calls for justice, but Christianity stresses mercy for all who forsake their evil ways and thoughts and return unto God with a sincere plea for forgiveness.

PRAYER: We confess our sins, O God, and turn to Thee for pardon. Have mercy upon us. Give us power this day to resist temptations to do evil. In Christ's name we pray. Amen. THOUGHT FOR THE DAY "God be merciful to me a sinner."

In homes with Flameless Electric Heat you almost have to hunt for dust

When you move into an electrically heated home you can practically forget about dirt. Electric heat is as clean as the electric light you read by.

There's no flame or fuel to make dirt, soot, or grime. And electric heat is such gentle heat it doesn't even stir up dust. In fact, in an electrically heated home you often have to look for dust.

EVERYTHING STAYS CLEAN LONGER

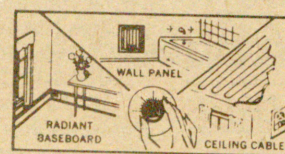

Your curtains and draperies stay fresh and nice for so long you'll have a time remembering when you put them up. Upholstery stays lots nicer, too. Electric heat is so clean you spend far less time housekeeping. That leaves you more time for activities you enjoy.

Living in an electrically heated home has other advantages, too, such as room-by-room heat control and fresher feeling heat that uses up none of the moisture or oxygen in the air. Even your skin feels more comfortable.

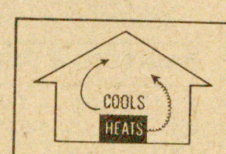

ELECTRIC HEATING NOW COSTS LESS THAN EVER

The recent rate reduction — on Electric Heating — applies to the three basic systems illustrated below. So, if you're looking for a new home . . . plan to build one . . . or want to modernize the heating in the home you own, call your nearest Public Service Company office for complete facts on the Electric Heating system that's best for you.

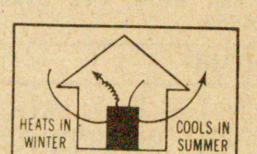

3 BASIC TYPES OF FLAMELESS ELECTRIC HEATING TO SOLVE EVERY HEATING PROBLEM

Radiant Electric Heating — offers room-by-room control. Ideal in homes or apartments. Just set the dial and you control the heat. Heating units circulate and radiate gentle waves of warmth throughout each room.

Central Electric Heating — new kind of furnace for new or older homes. Works with your present duct system. Circulates gentle, electrically heated air. Air conditioning may be added at any time.

Electric Heat Pump gives you perfect year-round climate automatically. Amazing unit switches to heating or air conditioning by itself. Maintains ideal temperature and humidity with one setting.

New W. T. Grant Store Opens Here Next Week

"We've cut shopping time and effort to an absolute minimum," Beryl McClure manager of the new W. T. Grant store at the Lockport Shopping Center announced today as he detailed the operation of the company's "quick service" system, which will be a feature of the new store to open next week.

Customer preference polls have long indicated that customers appreciate the opportunity to shop quickly, without corporate the best possible materials and workmanship in every single item on the market, and at prices that add up to real savings for Grant customers.

"As buyers for the public, we pass along to our customers the savings effected by our Buyers' know-how and the opportunity for most advantageous buying made possible by our three giant regional warehouses," the merchandise director said.

William T. Grant seemed to be born with one conviction that retailing must be the most thrilling business in the world.
His fabulous success has proved his belief.

W. T. Grant was born in Stevensville, Pa., June 27, 1876, the son of a modest flour miller and descendant of a family which immigrated to Massachusetts in the early 1630's. At an early age, he set about supplementing the family budget. He had the usual paper route, then a door-to-door venture selling packets of blueing and eventually, midway through high school, quit school to take up regular employment. While never a brilliant scholar in school, young W. T. Grant became a keenly observant student of retail, adding to his convictions about the path to success with each succeeding job.

He had a unique customer's point of view because of his theory that he was a buyer for the public rather than merely a seller to it.

Today, over 999 W. T. Grant stores serve communities in 44 states. And in each of them, the same principles set down by the founder over half a century ago serve just as effectively as they did in his very first store.

4-H Girls Have Display Of Work At Food Store

MRS. EMIL WILLE
Frankfort 5277
The exhibit prepared by the Lincoln Lassies 4-H club as part of the observance of National 4-H Week is to be seen on display at the Seaman food store.

Various girls arranged the different parts of the exhibit. Nancy Delaney and Carol Jones arranged the health aspect; Carol and Susan Sluiter, the dress display, and Gloria Kubeck was in charge of the sewing section; Susan Sluiter arranged the gardening display and the camping arrangement was by Donna Frankenberg and Elaine Urbano; Donna also teamed up with Corrine Janard in cooking; knitting, Miss Urbano; flower arrangement, Carol Jones; music, Frances Bulanda. The poster background was made by Christine Bulanda, Marilyn Kluth and Sandra Guarini. The girls were assisted by the leaders, Mrs. Rudolph Urbano, Mrs. Steve Kubeck and Mrs. Charles Jones. The exhibit was prepared at the club's workshop meeting

March 3 at the school. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Jayne Tyler celebrated her seventh birthday Thursday after school. Guests for ice cream and cake were Rhonda Harmon, Carl Zum Mallen and Nicky Harmon, cousins of Jayne.

—0—
Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Nicholson were guests of honor at a surprise housewarming party at their new home on Hillside road. It was attended by approximately 60 friends and relatives.

The party was given by Mr. and Mrs. James Jackson and Mrs. Margaret Colahan.

Guests included, Mr. and Mrs. James Delaney, Mr. and Mrs. George Kaehler, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Donk, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Spratt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dornisch, Mr. and Mrs. Cal Heath, Jr., Mrs. John Spechts and son, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kovar, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Torrence and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. John Torrence, of Tinley Park, Mrs. Katharine Torrence, Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Edstrom, Ivan Nicholson of Cicero, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler, Mrs. Harriett Bissell, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ball, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Scates, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Reils, of Frankfort, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Urbano, and Merle Smith, of Flossmoor. Cake and coffee were served and the Nicholsons received many gifts.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Spiess, of Manhattan, were guests at the Nicholson home and the Will County Auxiliary Police will hold their next meeting there, Sunday, March 18.

The auxiliary police group is also sponsoring a coffee in behalf of Robert T. Smith, a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff, that is to be held in the Nicholson home next Wednesday afternoon, March 21. The hours will be from 1 to 5 o'clock and all voters of the area are invited to meet the candidate.

Tinley Woman Gets $6,000

For Injuries

A Tinley Park resident, Mrs. Pearl F. Werner, 6551 Pine Point, was awarded $6,000 in an out of court settlement Tuesday, March 6, for injuries suffered in an accident near Mokena, June 27, 1960.

Mrs. Werner and her husband, Harley L. Werner, thru their attorneys, Dunn, Stefanich and McGarry, filed suit in the Will county circuit court in September of 1960, asking a total of $35,000 for injuries and damage to their vehicle as a result of the crash.

Listed as defendant in the action was George W. Case of Park Forest.

The Werners charged that Case was negligent in causing an accident on Route 45, near Mokena, in which Mrs. Werner was injured and her husband's auto badly damaged.

The suit was settled out of court after a jury was selected and sworn to hear the case.
